

“Del Alma al Sol, del sol al alma: Intervenciones Personales de una Artista Dominican-York, en Estos Tiempos Glocales” (Soul to Sun, Back and Forth and All in Between: Interventions of the Self by a Dominican-York Artist)

An ACWWS 2008 Conference Feature Address
by Josefina Baez

Josefina Baez is an actress, writer, theatre director. She is the founder and director of Latinarte/Ay Ombe Theatre. Her work is multidisciplinary in context and intercultural in scope. She has participated in many international theatre festivals and workshops in Europe, Asia, Latin America and the Caribbean. From 1981 to 2001, Mrs. Baez taught creative writing and theatre in public schools and cultural centers in New York City, in conjunction with Teachers & Writers, Arts Connections and CAL (Creative Art Laboratory/Teachers College-Columbia University).

Thursday, May 22, 2008
11:15 a.m.
Bourne Lecture Hall
St. George's University

St. George's University